

BECOMING A FGASA ARH ASSESSOR

1. You need to already be a FGASA Assessor.

2. You need to have the FGASA Professional Trails Guide Qualification.

3. You need to obtain the Range Officer Course Certificate (US123516)

4. Contact FGASA to request and receive the FGASA ARH Assessor's application form. Complete the form and submit back to FGASA with your valid Range Officer Course Certificate.

5. You need to complete the FGASA ARH Assessor Workbook. This is available from FGASA.

6. You need to attend the FGASA ARH Assessor's Workshop

7. You will need to complete an assessed ARH shoot and be declared competent, meeting the ARH protocols [V2019]. This must be conducted by a FGASA SKS(DG) Assessor.

8. You will need to undergo the mentored Assessors assessment and be declared competent. You will then be allowed to assess the ARH shoots.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

All ARH Assessors need to shoot their ARH renewal every 3 years with an SKS (DG) Assessor.

A logged peer-review shoot needs to be completed once every 3 years. This may be conducted during the ARH renewal shoot.

Becoming a FGASA ARH assessor follows a process of being appointed to the position.

It is not guaranteed that you will automatically qualify to become a FGASA ARH assessor.
